NOTE ABOUT THE SELLER: We are a KY Proud and Appalachian Proud small farm. Lisa is a licensed optician. She opened South East Eyecare, P.S.C. in 2007 and makes and sells prescription eye wear and contact lenses. Ron is the miller at McHargue's Mill and Director of the Mountain Life Museum at Levi Jackson Park. Lisa learned to spin in 1996 and loves making yarn. She spins the wool from her sheep by hand and then knits or crochets it into hats, mittens, fingerless gloves, stockings and more. Ron uses the handspun wool yarn to weave shawls on a triangular peg loom. Ron and Lisa love to participate in reenactments of the 1760-1800 time periods. Lisa also sells the freshly shorn fleeces from her sheep to anyone wanting to work with wool. Ron and Lisa were originally introduced to the Shetland breed in 2000. Rose Gate Farm was purchased and established in the fall of 2009. Ron and Lisa chose the Shetland breed of sheep for the hardiness and ease of maintaining. They choose to raise their sheep as organic as possible. The multipurpose uses of the Shetlands and their size was also a factor in their decision. Fully grown ewes range from 60-90 lbs. and rams 90-120 lbs. They lamb easily without help and have anywhere from 1-3 lambs at a time. Their wool is wonderful to the touch. Their meat is mild and not considered mutton until they are over the age of 2 years according to the Shetland Sheep Society website. Shetlands can also be milked if one desires. For more info regarding the breed please visit the Shetland Sheep Society website and North American Shetland Sheepbreeders Association.
